Harvard-Westlake names Sue Hodgkins as its new Program Head for Field Hockey.

Sue has coached for the Harvard-Westlake Field Hockey program since 2009, as the Head Coach of our Junior-Varsity teams, and as an assistant-coach to the Varsity team. During this period the Wolverines won the Tournament of Champions title six times.

“Sue was the natural choice to become our new Program Head for Field Hockey.” Said Terry Barnum, Head of Athletics at Harvard-Westlake. “No one knows our school, program or students better than Sue. We know the program is in safe-hands and will continue to pursue its tradition of excellence under her leadership.”

Sue played NCAA Division 1 field hockey at the University of Massachusetts, Amherst. Her team qualified for the NCAA Tournament three years in-a-row and made one Final Four appearance.

“I am very excited for this amazing opportunity.” Said Hodgkins. “I have been proud to be an assistant coach in the tremendously successful Harvard-Westlake Field Hockey Program for the last 13 years and am thrilled to move into the leadership role. We have high standards to maintain and new goals to achieve and I can’t wait to get started with the team this summer.”
